POPE BENEDICT XV IS DYING: NO HOPE HELD FOR AGED PONTIFF

Highway Commissioner Sadler Dies At Home

Last Church Rites Are Requested By The Head Of The Catholic Church

Vatican Does Not Expect Prelate To Live But Few Hours

Rome, Italy, Jan. 20.—Cardinal Camerlengo, becoming temporary custodian of the Papal authority in case of the death of the Pope, took up his permanent residence in the Vatican this afternoon.

Rome, Italy, Jan. 20.—Pope Benedict XV is dying. The last rites were administered at His Holiness' own request early today. At 10:30 o'clock today Grand Penitentiary Cardinal Giordani began recital of prayers for the dying.

The Vatican notified the Italian Government that the Pope's condition was hopeless. At 8:30 a statement was issued saying that his condition had become very grave during the night. His Holiness was severely agitated by the bronchial catarrh which had spread to his lungs and heart.

At the time this statement was issued Pope Benedict's temperature was 38 centigrade, pulse 102 and respiration 58. Shortly before noon the Vatican announced that the Pope, realizing that he was dying, asked for the administration of the last rites.

Result of Chill
As soon as the Pope's entourage had announced that His Holiness' condition was critical, Cardinal Gaspari, Secretary of State was notified. The Cardinal hurried to the Pope's bedside and found him resting tranquilly. The illness of Pope Benedict was the result of a chill which he caught last Sunday at the Vatican. He became very weak at that time but refused to be carried to his apartment.

Bells Toll
As soon as the decision had been reached to administer the last sacrament an order was issued to assemble the people in their churches for prayer. The bells of all these edifices began tolling to summon the people for the purpose of offering up prayers for the Pope.

NEW YORK NEGRO SHOOT POLICEMAN TO AVENGE BUDDY

New York, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Frank Whaley, a negro, snatched a revolver from the holster of patrolman Otto Motz and shot him to avenge Luther Boddy, the slayer of two New York detectives, he told the police today. Whaley, who was under observation suddenly leapt upon Patrolman Motz, seized the revolver and fired. He was overpowered after a desperate fight with several policemen.

FORD GETS MUSCLE SHOALS CONTRACT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—The contract between Henry Ford and the Government for the purchase of the Muscle Shoals Nitrate plant has been completed and will be sent to Mr. Ford for his signature late today. The contract was drawn up by Ford's experts and Secretary Weeks' staff.

DR. HUBERT WORK OF COLORADO WILL SUCCEED BILL HAYS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Dr. Hubert Work, of Colorado, now 1st Assistant Postmaster General, will succeed Will H. Hays as Postmaster General, it was learned today.

UPHOLDS ANTI-BEER BILL, PROHIBITING IT AS A MEDICINE

Judge Paris, in the United States District Court at St. Louis, recently upheld the constitutionality of the Anti-Beer Bill, prohibiting the prescribing of beer for medicinal purposes. He dismissed the suit for an injunction against W. H. Allen, State Prohibition Director, and other enforcement agents, brought by the Falstaff Corporation, to prevent them from destroying beer made by the company in anticipation of the defeat of the bill. The company was allowed ten days to appeal.

It was alleged in the suit that Congress did not have the power to legislate as to what is medicine, and that the measure was in violation of the rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

In giving the decision Judge Paris cited the Ruppert case, in New York where the United States Supreme Court upheld a decision that beer containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol was intoxicating. If a law fixing what is intoxicating is constitutional, the Judge reasoned, a law fixing what is medicine would also be constitutional.

He referred to decisions made under the State law forbidding the prescribing of certain alcoholic preparations as medicine, all of which have been upheld he said.

Judge Paris called attention to the fact that many States have passed laws more stringent than the Anti-Beer Law although the States have no power to abrogate the rights guaranteed under the Constitution. The latest amendment to the Constitution must be regarded as the latest utterance of the people, he said.

FRANKLIN WOMAN WHO DISAPPEARED WAS KIDNAPPED

Franklin, Pa., Jan. 20.—Charged with kidnapping Mrs. B. Wagner who disappeared November 14th, Steve Stoger, alias Baxter, was held in jail here today. Stoger was arrested in Erie and will be given a hearing on February 1st on a charge of abducting Mrs. Wagner. Stoger denied any connection with the case when questioned by the police.

SUSPECT CAPTURED IN THE NEW CASTLE BANK ROBBERY

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 20.—With the arrest of W. F. Shepherd, the police believe they have cleared up the robbery of the Union National Bank last summer of $60,000. Shepherd will be taken to New Castle for identification.

INDUSTRIAL FRAY LOOMS AS MINING SCALES EXPIRE; HOOVER GIVES WARNING

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—One of the greatest industrial battles in the nation's history looms up as a result of the threatened coal strike called for April 1st. Involved in it in all probability will be the question of wage reduction, the open shop, wage fixing by a national commission and other kindred problems. The success or failure of the strike will have a marked effect upon the industrial life of the country.

While he did not discuss what the government's attitude might be in the event of a strike, the impression gained by the administration was regarded without undue alarm.

Ordinarily wage discussions in the bituminous field have usually begun with a discussion in the Central Bituminous field. The agreement reached in this area has been the basis for the country.

Certain of the Pennsylvania operators have given notice they would not renew the discussion this year on the ground that West Virginia wage fields were the competing factors, and were unorganized.

"The stage" he said, "appears to be set for a strike in the bituminous coal field about the last of March."

Mr. Hoover did not indicate what the government's plans were for meeting the situation, but said there had been no conference between representatives of the administration and the miners and operators for about six weeks, with no further discussion looking for adjustments of controverted questions scheduled.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—Warning of an impending general strike in the coal business was given today by Secretary Hoover who said the public should know what to expect when the national agreements covering wages and conditions expire April 1.

Age of Sheep Told by Teeth.
 The approximate age of sheep can be told by the teeth. As the teeth wear, the points of the teeth wear away. The first pair of teeth, one on each side of the front ones, comes in about twenty-two to twenty-four months. The third pair appears a year later and at the end of the fourth year there is a full mouth with all permanent teeth present. As the animal grows old the teeth sprout and grow wear and finally come out.

The Old Post Road—1788.
 The old road between New York and Albany was, for the greater part of the way, but a rough belt through a virgin forest. Occasionally a farmer had cleared a few acres, the barn of a major house were open to the sun, the road was varied by the majesty of Hudson and Fallanden for a brief while, or by the precipitous walls of mountains, so thickly wooded that even the wind barely fluttered their somber depths. —Gertrude Atherton.

In the Pilgrims' Road.
 We may fall a thousand times, but as long as we are pilgrims of our failure, as long as we do not helplessly acquiesce, as long as we do not try to comfort ourselves for it by a careful parade of our other virtues, we are in the pilgrims' road. —Arthur Christopher Benson.

The Practice of Children.
 Four-year-old John W., when visiting his grandparents, was taken to Sunday school. The lesson of the day was the ever interesting story of "Daniel in the Lions' Den" and the teachers presented it in a manner to keep the interest of all the children. But during one of the intervals John W. spoke up, saying, "Yes, and I saw a little piece of the very same circus."

THE WOMAN OF POISE

Once a rarity is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. In deed, no other woman can flourish long in the midst of this modern, complicated life in the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women?

The death of Lewis S. Sadler, Pennsylvania's energetic and highly efficient Highway Commissioner, which occurred at his home in Carlisle at 10 o'clock this morning, is a distinct loss to Pennsylvania. Commissioner Sadler was an energetic hard-headed business man, whose record as head of the State Highway Department the past three years stands unequalled in the history of this or any other state in the union. He reorganized the road building department of the state and placed it upon a plane where it was not only the wonder, but the envy and admiration of the entire country. He divorced his department from politics, so far as it was humanly possible to do so in Pennsylvania, and the only thing that was asked of his subordinates was to build roads, and the man who was the most efficient received the encouragement, sanction and credit from Sadler, regardless of politics or political affiliations.

He brought to the public service that keen ability, sterling honesty and straightforward dealing which marked his every action in his private business life and made for himself a name which will redound to his credit and grow brighter with the passing years as his memory is venerated by coming generations of Pennsylvanians, who will feel proud to refer to Lewis S. Sadler as Pennsylvania's first real permanent road builder.

That "death leaves a shining mark" was surely exemplified in the death of Lewis S. Sadler. In the prime of a vigorous manhood, he was one of the strongest men in public life in Pennsylvania, and was in line for higher honors by reason of his exceptional qualifications and ability. We reiterate again the death of Lewis S. Sadler was a distinct loss to Pennsylvania.

The prevalence of crime is largely due to increased demands for money. Many men have become accustomed to spending a great deal and to having luxuries. When business began to get bad in 1920 and money came less easily, they had to have it just the same in abundance. Not being able to earn it, some of them began to get it by violence and crookedness. The need of money never seemed so pressing. People feel they must play the game at all costs. The boy who was formerly overjoyed to get a second-hand bicycle, now expects to have an automobile, and he kicks if it is not the right make. Fathers of families meet much higher demands from their dependents. Young people feel the pressure of their social sets. Even if people do not respond to this call by getting out with a gun and holding somebody up, they feel the pressure to get money by hook or by crook. The idea spreads that it must be had, and that if honest means won't suffice, then other means must be used.

Yet with millions of people holding these ideas, trying at any cost to keep up with the hot pace of society and sporting life, there is another side to the picture. The business community realizes the need of honesty as never before. If you attend any kind of business convention, you hear the idea expressed over and over again, that to win success, the merchant or producer must give everybody the square deal. He must tell the truth and he can expect to build up a permanent trade only on the basis of faithful service.

"I Challenge the Statement That the Americans Are Irreligious"
By REV. HENRY RUSSELL TALLBOT, Washington, D. C.

From a first-hand knowledge of the personal efforts of 90 per cent of the men who laid down their lives in the Argonne, I challenge the statement so often and so glibly made that the American people are irreligious and tending toward paganism.

As senior chaplain of the first division, A. E. F., I handled all the private belongings of the 1,800 American soldiers who were killed in the ten days' fighting in the Argonne, and in nine out of ten of the men's kits, I found either a crucifix, rosary, prayer book, or testament among the things for which the men considered they had the greatest need in their battle equipment.

These men, all of them, were perfectly normal Americans, representing a cross cut of the people of this nation, and they carried among the few things permitted them in battle their symbols of religious faith. Their faith is a significant fact for us to build on today, when we are stripped of all the unnecessary things we will still retain our religion as the most needed thing in our lives.

Making a Will When Sick
Many people are forced to make a will while on a sick bed.
At best, making a will is not a very hilarious act; but when one has been negligent in this very important matter, and he tries to make his will while ill in mind and body, the entire affair becomes a farce.
Making a will is a necessary and wise thing to do, and cannot be done any too soon.
The Clearfield Trust Company will, in strict confidence, help you make your will and act as your executor.

CLEARFIELD TRUST CO.

E. H. WALKER DIES
E. Hale Walker, a well-known Bradford township citizen, died suddenly at his home in Woodland last evening. The deceased who was about 75 years of age, had lived in Woodland for many years. He followed coal and clay prospecting for many years and had a wide acquaintance throughout the county. He was an active Prohibition party worker for years and always took an active interest in public men and affairs.
He is survived by his widow, two sons and one daughter. The sons are U. D. and Homer Walker, both of Woodland.
The deceased was a consistent member of the United Brethren church and his funeral will be held from that church on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY
GOING WELL
The Progress is a receipt of a letter from J. E. Gearhart, one of the Clearfield colony at St. Petersburg, Fla., in which he states that the "Sunshine City" is all that is claimed for it and that the Clear-fielders wintering there are all looking and feeling fine.

Mr. Gearhart says they drove the first stake for their home there five weeks from the day upon which his letter was written and that they are now living, eating and sleeping in it.

RULES LAND LEASED FROM STATE CAN NOT BE FLOODED

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 19.—The state forest commission is without authority to lease state forest lands to be submerged in development of water power projects, says an opinion given to Commissioner Pinehot by Deputy Attorney General Swoope.
The question arose as a result of the act of 1921, which extended the powers of the commission in regard to the utilization and development. A number of water power projects have been under discussion and one of them would mean flooding of wooded areas. Leases for submerging of state lands are held to be incompatible with the state laws.

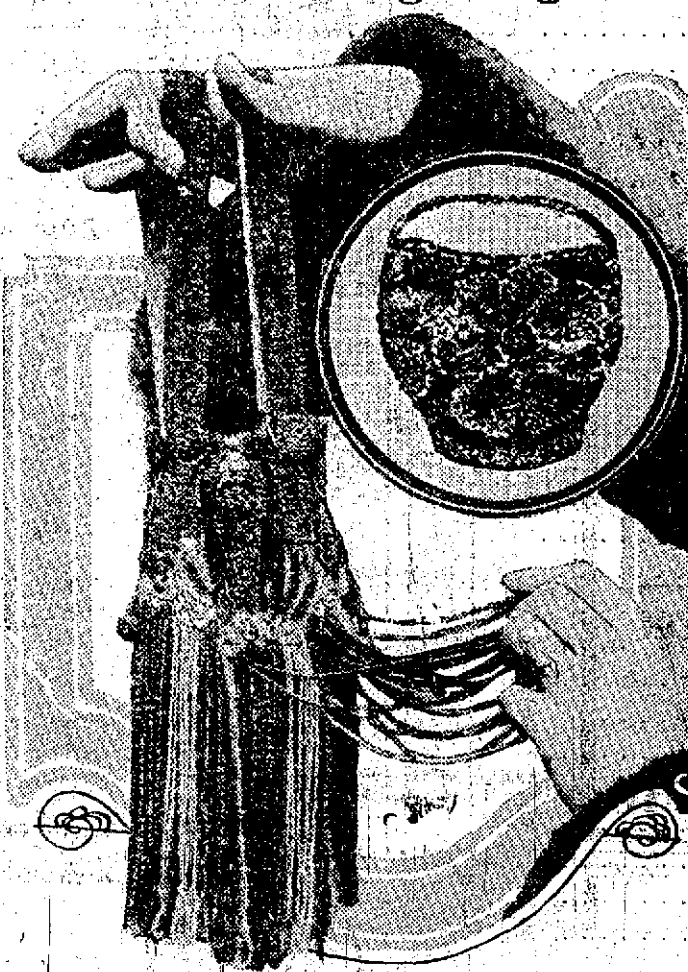

FOR AD RESULTS—PROGRESS

YEARS OF STOMACH TROUBLE GONE

Now Enjoys Best of Health—Eats Anything He Likes

Thousands suffer just as this man did before he found the wonderful remedy Nerv-Worth. It acts quickly to aid the digestive system, neutralizing acids that cause gas and heartburn. It stimulates the liver, regulates the bowels and gives a general invigorating tone to the entire system. John J. Grassel, of Washington, Pa., says, "For four years I had serious stomach trouble. Would throw up my food almost as soon as I ate it. I became very thin and weak and slept very little. Doctors and medicines seemed to do me no good until I tried Nerv-Worth, but since then I eat and sleep well, have no trouble with my stomach at all—eat anything I want and enjoy it. Haven't been bothered with sour stomach or gas blast since the first bottle." All first class druggists sell Nerv-Worth at $1.00 a bottle. You will always find it in stock at Stewart's drug store in this city. Try a bottle. Your money back if not satisfied after using the first bottle.

The New Fringed Bags

Long fringe is seen on many of the newer bags, fringe so long and so thick that, like this Nouveaute design, the greater part of the purse itself is hidden. A combination of gray, red and black is used in the fashioning of this marvelously soft beaded bag. Vanity cases, beaded in natural colors, and looking quite like the flower they imitate are another novelty of the spring.

HAVE YOU A FAMILY?

This Advice is of Vital Importance To You

Johnstown, Pa.—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restored my little boy to health when all else had failed. He had the influenza and pneumonia from which he could not seem to recover. He could not eat and would cough so at night that he could not sleep. He became weak and thin, nothing I gave him in the way of medicine helped him. I had about given up the idea that he would ever be well when I was advised to give him Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in small doses and it has completely cured him. He is now fat and robust, seldom ever coughs and has a splendid appetite. I appreciate the good "Golden Medical Discovery" did my boy and shall always recommend it.—Mrs. Fannie H. Webb, 167 Pine Street.

Your druggist will sell you Golden Medical Discovery in tablets or liquid, or send 10c for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free medical advice.

Shoe Lore.
Many superstitious are connected with the shoe; for instance, it is thought unlucky to put either shoe on the wrong foot. Because Augustus Caesar was nearly assassinated by a murmur one day when he put on his left shoe first, a saying has arisen that the right "shoe" must be put on first unless its owner wishes to court misfortune. Pythagoras, old Greek sage, told his disciples to put their left foot into their bath first. In Anglo-Saxon marriages the father-in-law gave the bride's shoe to the bridegroom who touched her on the head with it to denote his lordly authority.

DUBOIS POULTRY PRODUCER TAKES PRIZES AT SHOW

Reynoldsville, Jan. 19.—T. T. Carns, of DuBois, topped one of the big honors distributed in the preliminary award of prizes in the Big Jefferson County Poultry Show here this week, when his white rock cockerel was adjudged the best cockerel of the entire show. Mr. Carns' birds, five in number, edged into the honor list with sufficient vengeance to stamp the pen as the best outfit of young White Rocks of the many birds on display. His cockerel won first, second and third place; in their class in addition to the honor of best cockerel by Bird No. 1, and his two pullets took first and second place.

The big poultry show and agricultural fair is proving to be a thorough success, particularly the poultry end of the show. There are over 400 birds on display from nearly every community of Jefferson Township and many from nearby townships being represented.

Jewish Physicians Honored.
During a long interval the papers were attended by Jewish physicians. In 1855 the Roman senate reduced the amount of tribute payable by the Jewish community because medical men of that race had refused to charge poor people for their services. Pope Boniface IX gave a certificate of diploma to the Jewish physician Abba Sabbas and later addressed a document of the same scope—a sort of letter of recommendation—to Angelo di Maimone.

LEWIS C. DYER
Lewis C. Dyer, formerly county treasurer of Clearfield County, and well known business man and resident of this county for a number of years passed away at the Hahnemann Hospital in Philadelphia, Tuesday, Jan. 11th, aged 56. He was born in Hollisburg, Pa., September 10th, 1866, the son of Willis N. and Catherine W. Dyer who moved to this county some years after and resided in Curwensville up to the time of their death. Mr. Dyer engaged in the tanning business in the employ of John B. Alley & Co. in 1888, who at that time owned plants in Curwensville and Osceola Mills and was made Superintendent of the latter plant in 1892. For some 15 years he served in the borough council, and also as Burgess of Osceola during his residence there. He was in the coal business for a number of years with the late A. S. Brown of that town, operating under the name of Brown and Dyer. In 1906 he was in charge of the large tannery County. For a number of years he was in charge of the large tannery at Hamilton, W. Va. During his career there he was actively connected with various business organizations of that section, among them the Meadow River Land and Improvement Co. of Lancaster, Pa., some five or six years ago, where he had been a resident up to the time of his death. On June 14, 1888, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Kerns of Curwensville, Pa., who died several years ago. One child died in 1896. He is survived by his brother Fred J. Dyer and sister Miss Carrie B. Dyer, both residing in Curwensville.

Mr. Dyer was in Curwensville a week prior to his death and was taken ill on his way home last Thursday. He went on to Philadelphia to the Hahnemann Hospital.

The remains were brought to the home of Mrs. A. S. Brown, of Osceola and funeral services were held in the Presbyterian Church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment in the Osceola Cemetery with his wife and only child. The Masonic Fraternity had charge of the service.

Care of your table. The finish of a dining table may be marred if water drips on it from a plant used as a center decoration. This is avoided by placing a piece of oil cloth corresponding in size to the centerpiece beneath the dolly.

The Industrial and Community Association held its annual meeting in the American Legion rooms last evening, which proved to be one of the most successful meetings of its character ever held in Curwensville. A complete report was rendered by the Secretary and Treasurer of the workings of the organization for the previous year. The report was very encouraging and showed without a doubt that the officers of this association were attending strictly to their duties and handling matters with dispatch and efficiency.

The following officers were elected: President, L. W. Spencer; Vice Pres. F. J. Dyer; Secretary, J. D. Haines; Treasurer, C. S. Russell.

Eight members were elected to the executive committee. Four for a term of two years and four for a term of three years, as follows: Geo. L. Bonner, Edward A. Gallagher, J. G. Fullerton, A. Z. Wolf, M. A. Caldwell, R. D. Swoope, H. Phil Thompson and Al. McNaughton.

The meeting was followed by a banquet at the Park Hotel where one hundred citizens feasted upon chicken and waffles served by the new landlord John G. Fox, which was elegantly served and for which he deserves a great deal of credit.

The founder of this organization, which was only two years old last evening, is Mr. L. W. Spencer, who is a man possessing great visions of community betterments, greatly interested in his home town's progress in every sense of the word, a keen business man and ranks as one of the best citizens of Curwensville. His untiring efforts during the past two years kept the organization alive, even though a large number of our citizens failed to learn the true objects of the Association, making his work all the more difficult. The large meeting last evening and the explanation by the President of the principles involved in the organization gave new life, interest and assurance for success during the coming year.

To the Secretary, Mr. J. D. Haines is due the credit for the social manner in which the meeting was conducted. Mr. Haines has been Secretary since the organization was founded. He possesses great natural ability as an organizer and with his congenial manner and personal influence injected such pep into the programme of the evening, that throughout the business session as well as the banquet following same, the high spirit of entertainment was so thoroughly executed, that every minute was occupied to the enjoyment and appreciation of every one present. Appropriate popular community songs, lead by Mr. Haines, pleasing music furnished by Maureys Orchestra, reading supplied by Mrs. Kittleberger, the toasts responded to by various members of the association, and the efficient manner in which Toastmaster John A. Dale handled the situation added great pleasure and enjoyment to the extent that the opinion prevailed that this was the best meeting ever held here. Mr. Haines was not satisfied with this but drew a vote from the association to the effect that every monthly meeting shall be along similar lines. With such men as L. W. Spencer and J. D. Haines and the proper support of the many good citizens of Curwensville this institution is sure to succeed.

WOODLAND

Mrs. Howell, of Curwensville, visited last week at the home of her son Floyd in Woodland.

Mrs. Carl Jones is visiting relatives in Johnstown this week.

Albert Hunter, of Clearfield, formerly of the H. & W. Ref. Co. office was calling on friends here on Monday.

Philip, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Forney, of near Woodland, who has been in the U. S. Service for a year, arrived home last Saturday. We are not able to say if Philip expects to remain in the Army service or not. The "Bungalo" and "Upper Woodland Intermediate" schools enjoyed an old fashioned sled ride to Clearfield on Tuesday afternoon.

John Palmer, of Mineral Springs, is laid up with an attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. G. C. Pearce, Mrs. Reed Barger and Miss Media Ginery were Clearfield shoppers on Wednesday.

Harold DeLone is housed with a severe attack of mumps.

Mrs. V. G. Henderson is teaching the Lower Woodland Primary this week.

The Protracted meetings are still in progress at the U. B. church and are well attended and meeting with good success.

Surveyors are now at work on the new proposed improved highway to be built by the County and township leading from the Vulcan Co. store to the Pleasant Valley church by way of High street or better known as the Woodland-Shawville road. This is the main outlet from the county over which a great deal of traffic passes and at its present condition at certain times of the year is entirely impossible for automobiles. If ever a new road was needed it is this one.

DRINK MORE MILK AND TAKE LESS MEDICINE

If you'll drink more milk you'll take much less medicine. That's a foregone bit of logic, for the milk contains so many nutritive properties that your system will be built up to the point where it will resist the inroads of the germs that are always ready for the attack the minute your system becomes run down.

By drinking our milk at your meals and in between you'll find that you begin to feel better, put on some more solid flesh and are a better man, woman or youngster generally.

Dr. Lewis C. Rowles was operated on for appendicitis by Dr. McGirk in his sanitarium in Phillipsburg last Sunday.

Mrs. James M. Quayle, of Oswego, N. Y., is visiting at W. C. Miller's on West Front street.

"Rain-in-the-Face"

It is said that "Rain-in-the-Face" received his name as the result of a personal encounter when about ten years of age, with a Cheyenne boy, whom he worsted; he received several blows in the face, causing it to be spattered with blood and streaks where the paint had been washed away.

"End Is Imminent" Death Of Pope Is Hourly Expected

Absolutely No Hope For Recovery And Length Of Life Depends Altogether On His Ability To Weather Inroads Of Bronchial Affection.

ONE AGENCY HAS REPORTED HIS DEATH

Rome, Italy, January 21.—Pope Benedict XV sank into a comatose state this afternoon and it is not likely that he will live until evening, Dr. Battinini, the Papal physician, announced at 1:40 P. M.

END IS IMMINENT, SAYS CARDINAL GASPARRI.

Rome, Italy, January 21.—"The end is imminent," said Cardinal Gasparri, emerging from the bed chamber where Pope Benedict XV lay dying. Cardinal Gasparri was weeping. At one o'clock this afternoon it was announced from the Vatican that all hope of Pope Benedict's recovery, based upon his sleep and his being able to take some little nourishment, has been abandoned.

At 2:10 P. M. the Pope's physicians were momentarily awaiting the end. They have issued no bulletins since 1:00 P. M. At 11:00 A. M. the Pope took some liquid nourishment. At 11:50 A. M. he continued in a semi-conscious condition.

Rome, Italy, Jan. 21.—Pope Benedict XV was sleeping quietly this morning when his physicians visited him at 9 o'clock. The statement that his death was only a matter of a few minutes, which had been issued earlier, was immediately withdrawn. It was declared by the papal physicians that His Holiness might linger for a while, as was the case with Pope Leo. A statement issued at 10 o'clock today declared that should the unexpected happen and the sleep into which the Pope has sunk continue for several hours he might fully recover. Praying throngs and Cardinals and their attendants, crowding the pavements this morning, have been plunged into the deepest gloom by a report in circulation that Pope Benedict's death was only a question of minutes.

Death Denied

London, England, Jan. 21.—Pope Benedict XV is dead, a news agency despatch from Rome stated this afternoon. Upon receipt of the report here the bells of Westminster Cathedral were tolled. Reuter's Agency carried the report. A Rome despatch this afternoon said that the Pope's physicians held a hurried consultation today causing the rumor of the death of the Pope which was later denied.

M'GRAW SIGNS NEW CONTRACT TO HEAD THE GIANT CLUB

New York, Jan. 20.—President Stoneham of the New York National League club, announced today that John McGraw had signed a contract to manage the Giants for the next five years. McGraw's new salary was not announced. Stoneham said it was in excess of the $50,000 yearly specified in the old contract. McGraw also will remain vice president of the club of which he now is third largest stockholder. The manager will celebrate his 20th anniversary as leader of the Giants next July.

OWNER OF DOG MUST PROVIDE TAG OR BE SUBJECT TO ARREST

The owner of every unlicensed dog in Pennsylvania is now liable to arrest and prosecution. The new Dog Law of 1921 became effective on January 15 and under the provisions of this law a dog owner who does not have a license for his dog may be taken before any magistrate, justice of the peace or mayor and fined.

The old dog law did not provide for summary conviction for violators of the law and it was necessary to bring a court action against offenders. The new law, however, provides for summary conviction before any magistrate, justice of the peace or mayor, greatly facilitating the work of the enforcing officers.

The campaign to round up persons who have not complied with the law will be taken up within a few days and will be started simultaneously in a dozen sections of the State.

M'CONNELL RESIGNS AS DRY CHIEF FOR PENNSYLVANIA

Rev. John T. Davis Of Indiana County Seems To Be Favorite For His Successor.

IS AN ABLE MAN

William McConnell has announced that his resignation as Prohibition Director of Pennsylvania had been forwarded to D. H. Blair, Internal Revenue Commissioner, at Washington, D. C. It is effective at once.

In a statement, the retiring dry chief said the appointment came to him through Senator Penrose and without any solicitation on his part. He declared, furthermore, that Senator Penrose had requested him to continue in office, but that the death of the former Republican leader had caused many political changes and that his resignation was one of them. He made no reference to the fire that has been directed at him over enforcement affairs in Pennsylvania. The management of prohibition on

When asked if he was requested to resign he said:

"No. I have not been asked to resign by any person connected with the prohibition unit."

Davis Likely Successor
Every indication in Washington tonight points to the appointment of the Rev. John Thomas Davis, member of Legislature from Blairsville, Indiana County and chairman of the Law and Order Committee of the House. Officials confidently predict announcement of his selection as head of prohibition enforcement in Pennsylvania to be made immediately now that the necessity has been removed of forcing McConnell out.

The only other recognized candidate, Peter G. Walter, a Pittsburgh huggist, is said to be out of the running. It is understood Senator Pepper, whose endorsement is necessary, did not regard Walter's candidacy favorable. It was learned on word authority tonight the appointment of Davis would be acceptable to Senator Pepper.

WAYNE BURGE DIES

Wayne Burge, a life long resident of the Third Ward, died at his home on West Front street at 10:55 o'clock this morning after an illness of several months duration from a complication of diseases.

The deceased was the son of Jacob Burge and was born in West Clearfield January 18th, 1872, being there fore aged 50 years and 3 days. He was an industrious upright man, and though of quiet and unassuming manner, possessed those qualities which endeared him to those who knew him best.

He was an employee of the Elk Tanning Company for a number of years, but recently conducted a confectionery and ice cream business on Nichols street. He was a member of the Third Ward Hose Company almost since its organization and took an active interest in the fire department.

He is survived by his widow, one son and one daughter. His father also survives him. No funeral arrangements will be made until his father who is somewhere in the south is heard from.

ROME NEWSPAPERS EXPECT GASPARRI TO BECOME POPE

London, Jan. 20.—(A. LIVING COST HELD DOWN IN DECEMBER BY SMALL MARGIN

Decrease In Year Was 16 Per Cent But The Present Prices Are 44 P. C. Above 1914.

PORK DROP MOST

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—The retail cost of food is coming down, but the decrease is so small as to be almost negligible, amounting to only 1 per cent in December as compared to November, 1921, the Department of Labor announced today.

During the period from November 15 to December 15, 30 of the articles on which prices were secured by the department showed decreases ranging from 5 per cent on pork chops to four-tenths of one per cent on rib roast.

Lard decreased 4 per cent; bacon ham, potatoes and granulated sugar 3 per cent; butter, bread, flour, cornmeal, tea and raisins 2 per cent; sirloin steak, round steak, fresh milk, macaroni, rice, baked beans, canned corn, prunes, bananas, oleomargarine, and rolled oats 1 per cent.

Six articles increased in price, ranging from 11 per cent for cabbage to 7 per cent on strictly fresh eggs. Onions increased 7 per cent, leg of lamb 6 per cent, storage eggs 4 per cent. Prices remained unchanged for chuck roast, plate beef, hams, corn, navy beans, canned peas, tomatoes and coffee.

For the period December 15, 1920, to December 15, 1921, the percentage decrease in all articles of food combined was 16 per cent. For the eight year period, December 15, 1913 to December 15, 1921, the increase in all food articles combined was 44 per cent.

Congress Will Accept Ford Muscle Shoal Bid

"WAR AND RUMORS OF WAR MUST BE WIPED OFF EUROPE'S SLATE," SAYS LLOYD GEORGE IN NOTABLE SPEECH

London, England, January 21.—"War and rumors of war must be wiped off Europe's slate," Premier Lloyd George declared today in a speech before the National Liberal Council. "It was for this purpose that all European nations have been invited to Genoa. The proposed International Economic Conference might have results as important as those reported at Washington."

The Washington Conference "has been a great success," the Premier told his hearers. Lloyd George also pleaded for international confidence, stating that this was necessary to the peace of the world.

GUILT OF CAMP LOOTERS WILL BE EASILY PROVEN

Both Young Men Have Admitted They Had A Hand In Robberies At Hunting Clubs.

ONE BAD ACTOR

The Clearfield County Hunters Protective Association believe they have succeeded in establishing beyond question that John Young, James Sommerville and a third man, neither of the two will name, are the men who looted the Huckleberry Springs Twin Oaks, Welder, Rocky Glen, Carwath, Curwensville, Horn's Shanty, Painter Place and Wheeler Swamp Hunting camps, during the three weeks following the closing of the hunting season on December 15th last.

Both Young and Sommerville have admitted that they ransacked and despoiled about all of the camps mentioned. Sommerville was given a grilling in the District Attorney's office yesterday and finally admitted their breaking into the Welder Camp which both men had denied up to that time. When told the three robbers had been tracked on the afternoon of Sunday, December 25th from the Welder to the Painter Place, Sommerville, who is a consummate liar, reluctantly confessed that they had attempted to smash the lock with a piece of iron and failing in that removed a pane of glass from the window and entered.

Sommerville denied taking the articles stolen from Welder, but a suit case full of hunting traps, several blankets, an automobile tire, pair of trousers, a lot of victrola records and other wearing apparel and many smaller articles were later found at which were found in both the Painter Place and Horn Shanty Camps where the gang had their hangout while looting nearby camps.

Young is now an actor. Young, who is undoubtedly the ring leader of the gang, has a prison record and is also said to be wanted at Weedville, Clearfield County, for forgery. Young was sent to the Huntingdon Reformatory from Clearfield County when a lad, making a sensational getaway from the late Sheriff James P. Staver by jumping from the window of a passenger coach while the train was speeding on its way to Huntingdon. He was later picked up at Winterburn by Deputy Sheriff Hummelbaugh and served his term.

He was arrested in 1914 for robbing the cottages at Sebula lake and when the home of his uncle at Winterburn was searched $150 worth of stolen fishing tackle, a shot gun, bed clothing and shoes, clothing, provisions, etc., stolen from the company store at Penfield were found. For depredations Judge Bell sentenced Young to six years in the penitentiary. He was not long in taking up his old trade when released from the pen.

John G. Maines, the Bradford township farmer and auctioneer, was in Clearfield on business today and in conversation with some of his many friends, announced that he expected to be a candidate for County Commissioner at the 1922 primaries.

INTIMIDATION OF WITNESSES CHARGED IN ARBUCKLE CASE

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 21.—District Attorney Brady was aroused today at the charges of two state witnesses that he and his Deputy had intimidated them into signing false statements. Brady announced that he would flatly demand of Judge Lauderbach today that Zey Prevost and Alice Blake, whose testimony at the trial of Roscoe Arbuckle proved to be somewhat of a bonanza, be legally classed as hostile witnesses. This will give Brady permission to place Captain of Detectives Matheson, Court stenographer Howard Vernon and Homer Trent, who took the original statements of the girls in short hand, on the witness stand to show exactly what was said by them.

Brotherhoods Deny They Will Meet With Mine Workers

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 21.—The heads of the two largest railroad brotherhoods today expressed surprise at reports from Shamokin to the effect that they had entered into an agreement with the United Mine Workers of America looking to a joint meeting on the strike question. W. E. Lee, head of the Trainmen, and Warren Stone, of the Engineers, denied that their organizations planned to participate in such a meeting.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By "Skinney"

When it comes down to farming we are going to concede that our Granger friends know all about it and while we will admit that some of them cantell us how to farm much better than they themselves can do the actual farming we still agree that the Granger is the fellow we listen to as to the farm and husbandry generally. But when it comes down to schools and things educational we don't propose to let our Granger friend measure "our corn in his bushel." Therefore "the column" wants to take up the cudgel for our Hesperian friend, Dr. Finegan, State Superintendent of Education. The Pennsylvania Grange News is paning Dr. Finegan because the State Treasurer hasn't paid $6,000,000 the State owes our public schools, and which should have been paid in full August 11, 1921. The Grange News should know that paying the bills is not the province or the duty of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. It's criticism should be directed toward the legislature which appropriates so lavishly the money it does not have.

Fault is also found with Dr. Finegan for the increase of cost of operation for the increase of cost of operation of his department. That increase is most insignificant in view of the importance of the subject and work Dr. Finegan is attempting to accomplish, and only serves to recall the opposition of the same Grange News and kindred publications to the increase in or extension of the school term in Pennsylvania, when the raising of the school term from six to nine months was to bankrupt every rural school district—so some Grangers contended, but it didn't, and Dr. Finegan is on the right track and if left alone a year or so will make even the dyspeptic editor of the Grange News admit it.

Here, why we are with Dr. Finegan and his Department of Public Instruction, whose added to and increased facilities, personnel and equipment are commencing to boost Pennsylvania educationally to the position of standing among the States she is entitled to and should proudly hold.

The public school is our greatest National industry. It is an industry upon which any nation might be glad to base its standing in the world and its hope of progress. On this industry other industries depend for their essential elements.

The striking figures that the bureau of education gives in its report upon the schooling of the American people. They show that 24 per cent of the population—a trifle less than one-fourth of all our people—are in school, either as pupils or as teachers.

Schooling is not only our greatest national industry, but in it we lead the world. It is a fine thing in which to lead. In Germany, the country that ranks next to ours in scope of educational equipment, only 30 per cent of the population are in school; in Great Britain 19 per cent; in France 17 per cent.

There are 25,500,000 persons enrolled in the various educational institutions of this country. This is a vast army. It is an army of peace and progress, an army training in the arts of civilization, fortified in spirit and mobilized to give battle to the forces of poverty, inefficiency, disease. May the eagle of victory ever perch upon its bright banners. Pennsylvania, upon the advent of Dr. Finegan upon the scene to take over the direction of this greatest industry of the State, occupied the insignificant position educationally of twenty-first in the list of forty-eight States. Think of that—Pennsylvania the richest State in the union, with a school or educational standing almost half way down the scale.

Pennsylvania wasn't spending very much money on her Department of Public Instruction and while she might have been getting her money's worth for every cent it was taking to operate that important department—she wasn't getting much at that.

According to the expense figures we have seen quoted in the Grange News the expense of the Department of Public Instruction has about doubled, and in doing so has kept pace with administrative expenses in every other department of public and private business the past two or three abnormal years.

If Dr. Finegan renders increased service to our schools and public education; and educators are a unit in declaring he has already worked wonders, we say let him go to it, and think even the Grange News should be willing to give him a chance. On again, Finegan, you're on the right track. Go to it—you're alright. Grange News to the contrary notwithstanding.

Consider for a moment, if you will, some further figures. This is your money I am talking about.

For every fiscal year from 1880 to 1893, inclusive, there was a surplus of receipts over expenditures. During this period of 28 years the surplus of receipts over expenditures totaled $1,020,205,013.41.

For the fiscal years 1894 to 1900, inclusive, the expenditures exceeded the receipts in the aggregate of $25,022,991.14. For the fiscal years 1901 to 1904, inclusive, the surplus of receipts over expenditures aggregated $410,319,050.40. For 1905 the expenditures exceeded the receipts by $73,776,022.30.

For the years 1910 to 1914, inclusive, the receipts exceeded the expenditures by $140,024,404.27. For 1915 the expenditures exceeded the receipts by $33,498,931.53. For 1916 the receipts exceeded the expenditures by $65,171,563.39. And for 1917 there was a deficit of $29,724,864.73.

From 1880 to 1917, inclusive, the receipts exceeded the expenditures for each year with the exception of 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1905, 1906, 1910 and 1917. The total amount by which the expenditures exceeded the receipts for these 11 years just named, is $443,706,744.70. For the 32 fiscal years 1880 to 1917, inclusive, the receipts exceeded the expenditures by $1,463,901,268.11.

For the fiscal years 1880 to 1910, the receipts were raised through an indirect system of taxation. Beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, the receipts from direct methods of taxation have usually grown each fiscal year, as will be seen by the following table:

The number of corporations making income tax returns showing taxable income, aggregated 62,408 in the calendar year 1900, and that number increased to 232,070 for the calendar year 1917. The number of individuals making personal income tax returns aggregated 357,539 for the calendar year 1913, and that number increased to 3,472,890 for the calendar year 1917.

For the fiscal year 1900, the total ordinary receipts aggregated $903,590,453.84, of which $300,711,933.05 came from customs duties, $246,127,843.50 came from internal revenue, and the balance was received from the sale of public lands and other miscellaneous items; whereas, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, the total receipts from customs amounted to $184,457,867.33, while the internal revenue, including income taxes and corporation and excess profits taxes, amounted to $3,830,950,812.05.

So you will see that until 1910 the money you paid toward the support of the government was slipped away from you so easily that you hardly knew anything about it. You did not know that you were paying taxes to the national government.

Indirect taxation is the most seductive form of raising public revenue. You never came in contact with the federal government except when you bought a postage stamp. But now you know it every time you buy a drink at a soda fountain, or a bottle of medicine, or send a telegram, or pass a long-distance telephone call, or perform any one of a score of other normal activities of daily life. Some thing must be put in the kitty for the government. Its annual rackets run into the billions. You pay it and the government spends it.

But all that part of the party is about over now. The system has been eaten and put in the bill. They must be paid for by the greater part of the revenue required for conducting the public business must come from direct taxes. It is also clear that the ordinary expenses for running the government will in future probably exceed four billion dollars a year. That is a lot of money to take out of your pockets, and mine. Hadn't we better see what is done with it and whether we can save any of it? Congress, which is very far-sighted, and able, when its own skin is concerned, to distinguish a hawk from a hand saw at a very great distance, is beginning to take notice.

Now Can Do All Her Housework Alone Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Jasper, Minn.—"I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and took it because I was having such pains in my stomach and through my back that I could not do my work. I had tried other medicines, but none did me the good that your Vegetable Compound did. Now I am able to do all my work alone while before I had my daughter staying at home to do it. I have told a number of friends what it has done for me and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. JEANIE PETERSEN, Route 1, Jasper, Minn.

There is no better reason for your trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than this—it has helped other women. So if you suffer from any of the troubles of women, or are passing through a change of life, remember this splendid medicine. What it did for Mrs. Petersen, it may do for you.

The Vegetable Compound stands upon a foundation of nearly fifty years of service.

The Home of Good Groceries

It is much cheaper to move than pay rent. The rent booster gets after you and boosts your rent 300 per cent. So here we are in our new store across Market Street from the old stand, ready to supply your needs in the Grocery Line. The rent booster got us before we were ready, but that will be your gain. We have a brand new snappy stock of staple and fancy groceries, which we are forced to move quickly in order to get needed room for completing our new store, and have made prices especially attractive to assist in the movement.

We are now in our own store, where the rent booster can't get us, and we are going to pass our low overhead cost along to our trade in our prices.

The reputation of more than twenty years of square dealing and up-to-date merchandising stands behind our goods and our prices. Our motto is one hundred cents value for every dollar spent with us.

Come in and look our new store over.

(NOTE) Tracts Nos. 1 and 2 were conveyed to the A. R. Van Tassel Tanning Company by A. R. Van Tassel et ux, by deed dated October 10, 1916, recorded in the Office of Recording of Deeds in and for Clearfield County in Deed Book Vol. 216, at Page 509, while tract No. 3 was conveyed to said company by James P. Lord, et ux, by Deed dated November 26, 1917, and is recorded in said Office in Deed Book Vol. 223, at Page 279, which deeds are hereby referred to as giving the true and correct description of the lands above mentioned.

All the railroad switches and sidings and all contracts, agreements, rights and franchises of the Company relative thereto and whether the said sidings be upon the lands of the Company or otherwise, are to be offered, and lying immediately opposite the plant on the east side of DuBois Street, frame one story, Horse House 130x32 feet, and frame one story Horse House 30x40 feet.

TERMS OF SALE: The said property and premises, whether sold as an entirety or in parcels, will be sold free and clear of all liens and encumbrances against the A. R. Van Tassel Tanning Company and claims of any and all parties in interest in and above cause and every person or persons claiming under them.

The tenement dwellings upon said premises will first be offered separately, each with its proper curtilage or lot as appears by Plot or Plan made under Order of said Court, showing the land allotted to each dwelling, which can be seen by any person interested upon application to any of the Receivers, who will furnish plans and lots are offered, the highest bid will be noted, and the property held until all of the holdings of said corporation be offered as an entirety and if the highest bid then offered exceed if any amount the aggregate of the several bids for the said property, then the said property will be sold as an entirety, and sold to such high bidder as an entirety. If, however, the highest bid received therefore, as an entirety shall not exceed the aggregate amount of said several bids, then the said property when offered in parcels, then the said several parcels will be knocked down to the several highest bidders therefor. All to be subject to the general terms hereof.

The Receivers have the right to require of any person or persons offering to bid, a deposit equal to at least 10% of the value of the parcel or parcels upon which such bids is proposed to be made, as a pledge that such bidder will make good his bid in case of acceptance by the Receivers and confirmation by the Court. The deposit received from any unsuccessful bidder will be returned to him when the property has been finally knocked down, the deposit received from any successful bidder will be held until after confirmation of sale by the Court, and in event such bidder fail to comply with any Order of the Court relating to the payment of the purchase price or to comply with the terms of this sale, then any deposit or paid sum, will be forfeited as a penalty for such failure and retained by the Receivers to be applied to the payment of the expenses of any resale of such property and the making good of any deficiency or loss under such resale. In case any sale be not confirmed by said Court, the deposit of any bidder, there for will be returned forthwith.

The Receivers may from time to time adjourn or postpone this sale without further notice by advertisement, proceed with this sale upon any date upon which the same may have been adjourned, the sale to be by public auction or outcry upon the premises.

All bidders shall be required to pay at least 10% of the amount of their respective bids at the time the property is knocked down, credit to be allowed for any amount deposited with the Receivers as a condition precedent to bidding, and 40% of said purchase price at the time of the confirmation of the sale by the Court, and the remainder in six months from the date of such confirmation, with interest thereon from such date, and to be secured by bonds and mortgage entered of record, bearing the same date and to be executed, delivered and recorded simultaneously with the Deed for such property, but with the right and option in all purchasers to pay in cash the full amount of the bid.

ONLY 12 CASES OF CONTAGION ARE IN QUARANTINE NOW

"Doctor" Gaulin, the "demon" statistician and guardian of the public health in this community, has at last succeeded in getting a strange hold on old Daddy Mumps, and a result thereof but three mumps of the town were agreed to receive pickles from the daily bill of fare by reason of having developed mumps within the past seven days. In addition to these three cases of mumps there were but four other cases of communicable diseases reported for the week. They were chicken pox, 1; Whooping cough, 2; and diphtheria, 1.

They are at present in the custody of contagious diseases officer, and are in the town. They are located as follows:

First Ward—Diphtheria, 1; Mumps, 1; Whooping cough, 1.

Second Ward—Diphtheria, 1; Mumps, 1; Chicken pox, 1.

Third Ward—Mumps, 1; Whooping cough, 1.

Fourth Ward—Diphtheria, 1; Mumps, 1; chicken pox, 1; Whooping cough, 1.

Character of the mumps problem in Clearfield is a serious one, and is being dealt with in a most efficient manner. The mumps is a contagious disease, and is spread by the saliva of the infected person. It is a disease which is common to all ages, and is especially prevalent in the young. It is a disease which is often fatal, and is a disease which is a great source of suffering.

Does Your Printing Carry Your Personality?

Does it carry "you" as you are, or is it a poor counterfeit of the real "you"? It should breathe that clean-shaven, well-dressed, well-groomed air that you'd carry if you went to the person addressed yourself.

Such printing, printing that carries your own personality, is being turned out by our Commercial Printing Department every day. The surest proof is the fact that many business men are proud to say, "I had that printing done at The Progress."

New and clean-cut type, a careful supervision of every minute detail, an idea of sincere service and, last but, not least, promptness, is a combination that is working every day to the advantage of many business men.

Such work cannot be turned out quickly, neither can it be turned out cheaply. But, you'll find that, quality for quality, our prices are within reach of every person demanding good work.

Many people do not understand why the looting of camps on the mountains is given so much prominence. There is, however, a serious aspect to this matter which, perhaps, has been given little thought by those who are not interested in the property left in the camps on the mountains.

With all our mountain territory, thousands of acres of barren lands where criminals could hide while not plying their trade, there has been no instance for years when robbers or bandits have taken refuge there. The sportsmen of the county are determined to keep the mountains clear of lawlessness. They realize that if the looting of the camps is not broken up it will be only a short time until we will have a lawless element living on our mountains.

The resignation of Chief McConnell of the Prohibition Enforcement Office in this state, will be hailed with delight by a populace that is thoroughly disgusted with conditions as they have remained under his tenure of office. McConnell's usual title was "Dry Enforcement Officer." This was certainly a mistake.

All who are familiar with the career of Mr. Davis of Blairsville, Pa., who is prominently mentioned for the place made vacant by McConnell's resignation, are agreed that he is the right man for the place, and under him we are sure that conditions in this state will more closely approach a state of real prohibition.

Wonder how many people of Clearfield realize that there is a borough ordinance against the throwing of ashes on the streets? The ordinance makes no distinction between brick streets and dirt streets and should not. There are a great many ashes being piled up on several of our streets these days, thereby creating nasty humps, which are not only hard to drive over by either horse-drawn or motor vehicles, but are constantly causing breakage of vehicles. Owners of vehicles intend to petition Burgess Kittelberger to abate this nuisance so those who have been violating this ordinance will do well to discontinue the practice before they have to remove what ashes they have already carried out on the streets.

Lloyd George struck a true note in his address when he pleaded for confidence and a sympathetic understanding between nations and their leaders. Nothing is accomplished when conferees meet with a suspicion that some are there for ulterior motives. The great Disarmament Conference could not have accomplished anything without confidence. If the European leaders can go into the Genoa conference with this great element uppermost in their minds, it will be a success.

Is there an unlicensed dog about your premises? If so, you are liable to arrest. Do not think, as we heard one fellow say yesterday, that it is up to the officers to come around and kill that dog. It is up to you to get rid of the dog or buy a license.

SWEET CLOVER SEED
MUST BE CERTIFIED
That of Biennial Cannot Be Told From Annual Product.
Smaller Growers Are Advised by Department of Agriculture to Secure Assurances Regarding Authenticity of Seed.
Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.
Last fall there was probably little more than 2000 bushels of annual white sweet clover seed in existence practically all grown in Iowa, Michigan or Alabama. Nearly all of this seed was used for increase purposes so that there is at present a considerable shortage of seed. There are four or five large producers with acreages in Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Texas and Alabama, but besides these there are hundreds of farmers with from one to several acres from which they expect to harvest a crop this year, part of which will be offered for sale.
The attention of these smaller growers is called to the fact that buyers will desire to be sure that the seed offered them is best winter is that of the annual and not that of the biennial.

THE BLUE LAW CRY
(By Clarence True Wilson)
The recent Blue Law hoax was the second of its breed in American history. The latter day fake, which must have made the late Mr. Barnum look down, or up, with a grin on his face, offered as its crowning falsehood the statement that the rampant prohibitionists were going to prohibit automobile riding on Sunday.
The very name "blue-law" is an historic misnomer. The alleged blue law code of New Haven and Connecticut was originally given publicity in "The History of Connecticut," written by the Rev. Samuel Peters, a clergyman of Connecticut who was driven out from that colony in 1774 because of his Tory activities, and who attempted to revenge himself upon the patriots of America by his absurd and libelous history.
Far from cruelty and intolerance in its laws, the legal code of New Haven and Connecticut was for its date in history, mild and generous in the extreme. As late as 1819 there were 223 offenses punishable by death in England, and 176 of these were without benefit of clergy. Connecticut, as early as 1642, imposed the penalty of death for twelve offenses only.
In that day horrible cruelties were common methods of government. But the Puritans of New England, as reviled by the impuritans of today, were neither cruel nor blue in their governmental practices.
According to the Rev. Samuel Peters, the "blue code of Connecticut" made it criminal in a mother to kiss her infant on the Sabbath day, strictly forbade mince pies, playing cards, playing instruments of music except the drum, trumpet, jews-harp, etc. But the same man who hurled these libels at his patriotic enemies said in the same book that "the water (of Belshazzar's Feast) is consolidated by pressure, by swiftness, between the pinching sturdy rocks, to such a degree of induration that no iron crow-bar can be forced into it," and on page 127 said "the stream is harder than marble."
The blue law hoax of Peters has caused that veracious individual to be taken as the patron saint of the wets and the very words of his chief libel of his country are adopted as the inspired text of the propaganda to break down with lawlessness the authority of the American constitution, the sacred compact of the best government that anywhere on earth ever blessed mankind.
It seems astonishing that a campaign founded on such an episode as Peters' libel of American customs could have been adopted by so many and carried so far. But editors have solemnly swallowed the propaganda, hook, line and cork. Clergymen have taken it up in their pulpits, lecturers have tried to ride into popularity by denouncing blue laws. They have encouraged the violation of the law, tried to make a joke of enforcement officers, attributing the success of prohibition to the leadership of the Protestant clergy, they have made them the butt of ridicule with their moving picture films, and have tried to make the law a by-word.
What is true in the United States has been much more marked abroad, where a well-financed, adroitly-conducted propaganda has sought even in the press of our Allies, England and France, to deride the United States from trying to save its peoples from intemperance.

biennial type may be sold for the more expensive annual plant. For this reason the United States Department of Agriculture urges prospective buyers to look carefully into the origin of every lot of seed offered. Growers of annual sweet clover this year should be able to state where they got their stock seed, when it was seeded, when it blossomed, and when it was harvested. If any responsible state official can add his assurance that the field is true annual, such a statement would be worth getting.
The large growers are naturally preparing to meet all demands for evidence as to the purity of their stocks. Unless the smaller growers can also give adequate assurances regarding the authenticity of their seed it may be harder to sell, and they may have to accept prices no line with those paid for common sweet clover seed. All such growers are advised to take up this matter with their farm bureaus, county agents or state experiment stations and protect themselves as far as possible.

PROFITABLE AGE FOR FOWLS
Some Hens Are Not Good Producers After Their Second Year, Others Lay Longer.
The profitable age for hens varies with individuals. Some hens are not profitable after their second year, while others will lay their keep and more too for three or four years. In figuring up the value of a hen, consideration must be given the value of her eggs as well as to the number of them she will lay.

STORAGE CELLAR ESSENTIALS
Should Be Located on Well-Drained Site and Insulated Against Cold and Heat.
The four things to be kept in mind in planning a storage cellar are: securing a well-drained site; on a knoll, if possible, but in any case where no water can settle back in the cellar; insulation against both cold and heat is necessary; the cellar should be supplied with plenty of moisture so that roots and tubers will not shrivel; at the same time it must be ventilated so that moisture does not condense or drip.
The following products can be stored in a root cellar so designed: Apples, asparagus, beans, kohlrabi, cabbage, canned fruit, carrots, celery, cranberries, fresh fruits, onions, parsnips, pears, potatoes, stuekraut and tomatoes.
COVER CROPS IMPROVE SOILS
Not Grown as Much as They Deserve Nor as Frequently as Needed in Many Instances.
Cover crops for fall and winter are not used as much as they deserve nor as frequently as the soil requires. More vegetable matter is greatly needed on this soils. Those who break early and plant rye, wheat, oats, barley or clover will find advantages for improving soil and in extending the rotation to build up the land. Without humus it is a difficult matter to use commercial fertilizer to advantage. By turning it over crop you make a beginning for better soil.

It is highly probable in view of the medical interest in the case that he will be sent to Europe."

LESSON FOR JANUARY 22

ELIJAH'S FLIGHT AND RETURN.

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 19:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—I waited patiently for the Lord; and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.—Ps. 40:1.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Ezek. 2:1-7; Acts 18:10; 18:11.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Sends an Angel to Help Elijah.
JUNIOR TOPIC—God Strengthens Elijah.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Elijah's Champion Encouraged.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Enduring and Finishing Our Task.

This lesson story proves Elijah to have been a man of like passions as we are (Jas. 5:17).

1. Elijah's Flight (vv. 1-14). Upon Ahab's return, from the excitement on Mount Carmel, he told his wife all that Elijah had done—that even all her prophets had been hewn to pieces by the sword. This so enraged her that she sent a message of death to Elijah, who seems to have been waiting at the gate (vv. 1, 2). This was clearly a bluff on Jezebel's part. Though Elijah had courageously stood before the king and the priests of Baal, he now cowered before this woman and fled for his life. He seems to have failed at his strongest point.

1. Elijah under the juniper tree (vv. 3-7). The juniper tree was a shrub of the desert which afforded shelter and protection to travelers from the burning sun by day and the cold wind by night. (1) His request (v. 4). This was that he might die. This was no doubt a foolish thing for him to say, but let us be as considerate toward him as was God. The discouragement, and even despondency, of Elijah was due to the nervous strain of about four years of unusual service for God, which culminated on Mount Carmel. Such nervous reaction is to be expected. (2) God's tender treatment (vv. 5-7). (a) He gave him sleep (v. 5). "He giveth His beloved sleep" (Psa. 127:2). (b) He sent an angel to cook Elijah's meal (vv. 6, 7). The angel of the Lord is usually understood to be the second member of the Holy Trinity. If this be correct, then we see Jehovah, Jesus preparing food for His servant, Elijah, as He afterward did for His discouraged disciples by Galilee (John 21:19). God again gave him sleep, and at the proper time again gave him food. Though Elijah wanted to die, God had something better for him, for in a later day He met him with the "chariot of the Lord" and took him to heaven untouched by death.

2. Elijah at Horeb (vv. 8-14). (1) God's interview with Elijah in the cave (vv. 9, 10). (a) God's question (v. 9). "What doest thou here, Elijah?" This was a stinging rebuke, though most kindly given. It implied that His appointed messenger was now far away from the field of duty. Elijah was not where God wanted him, but God sought him where he was. How blessed to know that "a God-forsaken saint" is not a God-forsaken saint! (b) Elijah's answer (v. 10). Elijah tried to vindicate himself by asserting his jealous loyalty to God—that in spite of all this the people had not only rejected his message and dishonored God, but had sought to destroy him. (2) God's interview with Elijah on the Mount (vv. 11-14). While standing before the Lord on the mount, God caused a mighty demonstration of wind, earthquake and fire to pass before him to show unto him the nature of the work which he had been doing for God, and to show him what was lacking in his work, for the fullest attainment of success, Elijah had about him much of the whirlwind, earthquake and fire. His work had been terrifying and alarming, but it lacked in gentleness and love.

3. Elijah's Return (vv. 15-18). Though Elijah had erred, God brought him again into His service. How comforting to know that God does not reject His servants because of their failures in times of despondency! He deals with them after the motive of their hearts. Elijah was nourished and instructed by the Lord and then sent on a high mission. God is a fine psychologist. He took Elijah out of himself by giving him a new commission. The most healing ministry is that of work. Many bereaved ones have been lifted out of themselves by active ministry to others. Before God would come in His chariot to take Elijah home, He set him upon a threefold ministry:

1. To anoint Hazael king over Syria (v. 15).
2. To anoint Jehu king over Israel (v. 16).
3. To anoint Elisha as his own successor (vv. 19-21).

Time Rightly Employed.
Never talk with any man, or undertake any trifling employment, merely to pass the time away; for every day well spent may become a "day of salvation," and time rightly employed is an "acceptable time." And remember that the time thou trifled away was given thee to repent in, to pray for pardon of sins, to work out thy salvation, to do the work of grace, to lay up against the day of judgment a treasure of good works, that thy time may be crowned with eternity.—Jerrmy Taylor.

The Clearfield Progress

Gentlemen: We write to know of the whereabouts of Colonel Kuhn and to answer a part of his lengthy epistle. Several days have elapsed since we have had the pleasure of seeing his military figure promenading on Main street, with his double-barrel on his shoulder. We also want to ask where he got his title—Colonel—as the only way that we could figure it is that the colonel is the best part of a "nut."

We must confess that he did his duty, that he shot the rich dogs and the poor one alike, but when a fellow pays his good dollar for a license we think that Colonel should mail it back after he takes the dog away. Instead of that he kills the dogs and thousands of them at that, and gets his two dollar fee, and then took several around to F. F. Tate the butcher, trying to sell them for sausage meat.

He also killed several only half-lives lived and howled and squirmed for several hours after he gave them his dose of salt and pepper. Was this fair to either the dog or the community? And then he always left town on the five o'clock bus when it was daylight, and he was sure that he could make a safe getaway, and be sure that our sore heads would not make his head sore.

He may think that it is legal to go on a man's premises, break into his house, shoot the dog that the State laws have licensed, but can he think for one minute that he is not caught by the "Act of Assembly" No. 23 that deals with "Cruelty to Animals."

The next time Kuhn or Col. Kuhn comes to town he wants to bring a set of double-barrelled shot guns and the Hospital Ambulance, as well.

Yours very truly
A. DOG FANCIER

We'll have to give "Colonel" Mak Kuhn credit for playing no favorites in his campaign against wayward and running at large dogs in our town. A day or so ago, about dusk, Max was coming up street on the lookout for dogs. His sharpshooter's eye rested for a minute on a beautiful big Newfoundlander on Irvin's front lawn. With out further incident or investigation the Colonel let fly six shots from his trusty repeater and was loading up to try it again, as the dog still stood at ease, unharmed, when chief Clark noticed in and put an end to the hostility by informing the "Colonel" that this particular dog was iron. The dog formerly graced the lawn at the J. B. Graham home in Clearfield, the site of the present County National Bank, but the fact that it was from Clearfield cut no ice with the "Colonel," although he failed to hit the dog with any one of his six shots.

About twenty-five of Curwens-ville's young people journeyed to Kellytown by sleds the other evening reporting a most delightful sleighing party. After arriving at Kellytown they stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simcox, where the evening was spent in playing bridge and 500. At 1:00 covers were laid for the whole party and after partaking in a sumptuous dinner the party voted a voice of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Simcox for their generosity. The party left for home in the wee hours of the morning.

Mrs. O. J. Shugarts received word that her husband arrived safe in Kansas City, Miss., where he is enrolled in the E. J. Sweeney Automobile & Tractor School.

PARADISE

The kiddies are enjoying the skating on Mossops pond.

Denzil Woodie, of Sandy Ridge, is visiting with relatives here.

Mrs. Clyde Baier has been quite ill but is reported some better at this writing.

Last evening a number of the Clearfield Textile Mills employees called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Thompson and gave them a jolly serenade, and also tendered them a miscellaneous shower. Mrs. Thompson was formerly Miss Berenice Giles and an employee of the Textile Mills. We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Thompson to our community as they are both fine people and have a host of friends. We extend our heartiest congratulations.

Denzil Collins is confined to his home with a severe attack of grippe. Denzil is one of the committee for the Red Men's big supper next Tuesday evening and has acknowledged that that is the only reason he is "obeying orders," so that he will be able to participate at the repast.

Little Marion, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Caldwell has been suffering with pneumonia. We are glad to state that she is reported past all danger at this writing.

Mrs. Charlie Polinghorn and children of Woodland and Mrs. Leo Wilson and children of Barrett, spent Wednesday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hunchberger.

The many friends of Emory Miller will be glad to learn that he is somewhat improved in health. Mr. Miller has been bed fast for the past four weeks but was able to sit up for while today. We hope for his speedy recovery.

We promised not to do it but it is such a temptation we can hardly re-

Don't neglect that cough. Welch's Glycerole or Tar and Wild Cherry will give relief without harmful dose or alcohol. 25c and 50c.

TOOTH BRUSHES

THAT CLEAN TEETH

There are tooth brushes that are a joke, but you'll find the joke's on your teeth when you start cleaning them with one of our brushes. You'll find that the brushes last a little longer and clean a little better.

Most people have forgotten already about the heavy snow storm last week but we have in our neighborhood one (gent) who will never forget it (we don't think). While he was jerking the old jitney bus out of one snow drift into another some one whispered quietly to him that old Doc Stork had slipped gently by him and was on his way to his home. At this warning he became more powerless than ever and things grew more discouraging every minute until he was forced to surrender and get home the best way he could. Although it was zero weather the perspiration stood on his face when he arrived home but the weary look soon faded into a smile when we said "it's a girl!"

W. A. Collins' new hot houses are certainly a picture at this season of the year. One house is now filled with carnations and sweet peas while another is an immense bed of lettuce which is very tempting. The third consists of ferns and potted plants also a lemon tree. This lemon tree is something out of the ordinary. It has on it at the present time seven lemons averaging about one and a half pounds each.

Little Ethel Flister has measles.

Misses Nora Gehlert and Elizabeth Boal teachers of our schools, will spend Sunday with their parents in Glen Richey.

Dave Etzweiler, one of Penn. Public's most competent employees, visited his many friends here Thursday "while reading meters." Dave is a good, friendly fellow, walks in miles and never charges you a cent. What other fellow does that.

WOODLAND

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Butler on January the 16th a big 10 lbs baby boy.

Edward Stiner of Leontes Mills, is spending the week end with relatives at Woodland.

Irene Adopts a Turtle

Irene Chastig has just adopted a 700-year-old turtle, resident of the Bronx Zoo, New York. Photo shows the turtle teaching her the steps of the "Turtle Trot," which she may introduce to the stage.

Check in Floor. Alike a piece of half a pound of four, three quarts of water and a half-pint of about half a pound of salt. The mixture is about as thick as putty and is forced into the cracks with a knife. It will harden like putty and make a good floor.

"Polly" Characteristic. The word "polly" which was applied as a nickname to the French soldier during the World war, means hairy or shaggy, and is generally used to denote a man of strength and character. The idea being that men with hairy faces and arms and chests are strong.

SURVEYOR CROWD SLEIGH RIDES

A jolly crowd of Surveyor young people sledged down to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Reese near Frenchville and enjoyed a delightful party at the Reese home. "Old Man" Reese was right at home with the young fellows in the "kissing games" and also had his dancing pumps on. Delicious refreshments were a major portion of the evening's enjoyment.
